Dedication

With great pride the Class of 1959 dedicates this Calvertana to the late Samuel Cardinal Stritch in an attempt to express gratitude for all he has done for Calvert High School. In 1923, as Bishop of Toledo, Cardinal Stritch founded Calvert and three years later gave it its name.

Cardinal Stritch found a place in the hearts of Calvert students because of the deep personal interest he had in them and in the school. Each year, as long as he was Bishop of Toledo, he honored the Senior Class by his presence at their commencement exercises. When the school paper was initiated in 1926, he blessed it with his praise and wishes for its success.

An endowment which he has left to Calvert has inspired students in the past and will continue to do so in generations to come. It is a letter which can be found in the first Calvertana. When looked upon monetarily this letter is worth little, but when read and considered thoughtfully it is found to exceed its face value innumerable times, for it contains words of great wisdom. Expressed in it are high ideals upon which students can pattern their lives in order to obtain fulfillment in this life and in the world to come.

My dear Seniors:

There is a debt that you owe to Calvert High School which must consume your mortal lives in paying.

CALVERT DEMANDS that you be men and women of deep faith. Religion must be the dominant force in your lives, for heaven is your ultimate goal.

CALVERT DEMANDS that you be men and women of that fine patriotism which your religion enjoins as a distinct phase of the virtue of charity. Never must you say, even in the secrecy of your hearts, that you are not your brother's keeper, but ever you must remember that you have a social duty to your fellow-countrymen.

CALVERT DEMANDS that you never neglect an opportunity for self-improvement or the acquisition of useful knowledge. A trained and well-informed intellect is, when combined with sturdy Christian character, the world's greatest force.

CALVERT DEMANDS that you be ever, even in your leisure, occupied. No life is so useless as an idle life, no excuse so false as "I could have done better." Only a few years are allotted to you—these you dare not waste.

We wish you every grace and blessing and confidently we trust that Calvert will be made great in you.

With blessing,

SAMUEL A. STRITCH,
Bishop of Toledo

Calvinism and you never begin an opportunity for self-improvement in the acquisition of useful knowledge. A trained and well-informed intellect is when combined with study Christian character the world's greatest force.

Religious Training, Guidance, Mass, Sacraments, Retreat

For the past few years, the religious training program has been a very successful one. The program is designed to help students understand the basics of the Catholic faith and to prepare them for the sacraments. The program is open to all students, regardless of their background or previous religious experience. The program is taught by a priest and a nun, who are both experienced in the field of religious education. The program is held in a small, comfortable room, and the students are encouraged to ask questions and participate in the lessons. The program is a great way for students to learn about their faith and to prepare for the sacraments.

Formula for Making 'Men and Women of Deep Faith'

For a Deep Faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and His Kingdom, the Bible is the only authority. It is the only source of truth and the only way to life. The annual retreat is an important part of the religious growth. It consists of three days of fasting, prayer, and study. The students are to be in a state of grace. Daily Mass, retreat, and spiritual reading are essential. The weekly Mass is the center of the life. The retreat is a time of deep prayer and study. The idea that religion must be combined with the sciences is a mistake. The sciences are for the school and home life.

Pleasure in Reading

Literature enriches the lives of the students with its broad picture of the world. It presents the history of England and America from ancient to modern times. It presents the finest and most beautiful prose and poetry in the English language and opens to them a new world of ideas, adventure, and beauty. Grammar and vocabulary study give the students with the tools for expression, the correct and effective use of words. This skill is practiced by practice in the classroom.

For the past few days the girls of the Calvert School have been busy with their homework. In these classes are taught the skills and attitudes which help girls take their place in the world as good Christian wives and mothers. In the first year girls learn the fundamentals of cooking and sewing during the first year and in the second year they add to this experience in home decorating and furnishing.

Three of the girls of the Calvert School are shown here working on their homework. The girl on the left is working on a sewing machine, the girl in the middle is working on a piece of fabric, and the girl on the right is working on a piece of fabric.

Senior Class Play—Exciting

A tense situation was the setting for the senior class play "Lost on January 16th". With Judge Hedges presiding, Ernest Anthony Flint and Deane Anthony Stevens staged a keen battle of wits to determine the guilt or innocence of Karen Anne Flint, the student secretary killed by her lover, Ben Franklin? Who was called and cross-examined? How did the jury hear? What was the verdict? I would say I influenced the verdict. Wendell's daughter Nancy was the original Ben Franklin?

Further, we are extending our generalizations by the way we arranged to play along its final course to a general for King, Andrew.

The Band Plays On

Character: Mrs.
Pollyanna

When the band was first organized, it was a small group of students who were interested in music. They practiced every day after school and during the summer months. The band grew in size and reputation over the years, and now it is one of the most popular activities in the school. The band has won many awards and has performed at many important events. The students who are in the band are proud of their school and their country. They are also proud of their band and the music they play. The band is a great way for students to learn about music and to have fun. It is also a great way for students to work together and to build self-esteem. The band is a part of the school's tradition and it will continue to be a part of the school's future.

Among the coaches, Mr. Paul M. Mott, head coach of the football team, is a former basketball coach and teacher of American history. As a basketball coach, Mr. Mott led an other fine basketball team which finished the season with a 42-0 record.

His understanding and willingness to let the boys have what they want and confidence. He has worked hard with the reserves to develop a better and stronger varsity program. Above all, Mr. Mott has taught his history students the meaning of the true American way.

Alumni Report

Alumni contribute to the welfare of Calvert in various ways: practically, through the promotion and support of school and alumni activities by attendance and participation; financially, through gifts to the alumni fund and to the building fund; and spiritually, through prayers for the continued growth and success of the school, its faculty and its students in every area of endeavor.

Under the leadership of Dr. O. G. Burkart, president, Evelyn (Heck) Myers, vice-president, Karen Cramer, secretary, and Charles Homan, treasurer, the association sponsored many activities during the past year.

On August 30, the annual alumni dance, which realized $680 for the Calvert library, was held at Meadowbrook. June 1 found the members of the silver jubilee class of 1933 meeting for dinner and a program in the school cafeteria. The officers attended a special Mass for deceased alumni in the Convent Chapel on June 8, the alumni reunion day.

Proceeds from this year's alumni fund drive will be used for library equipment and books when the proposed new addition to Calvert is completed.

Career Day, in which representatives of various fields discuss with students their background and requirements of their fields, was an asset for the time being. A series of talks by speakers representing general areas—agriculture, industry, health, etc.—for the entire student body at general assemblies was substituted. Instead of turning attention to any special trade or profession, the speakers dealt with vocational fields in general, emphasizing the necessity of serious preparation for a vocation in the school.

Alumni also contribute to Calvert as individuals. Many, like members of the Board of Governors, have avidly kept the school's and extracurricular programs of the new school. A large number related with the Calvert water tower. A very prominent object in Calvert's history, many alumni, with brothers and sisters enrolled in the school.

The Alumni was a special gift of gratitude to Herman Sister Mary Charles, a member of the association.
